Departmental Notices

Business, Innovation and Employment

Health and Safety in Employment (Adventure Activities) Regulations 2011

Publication of Safety Audit Standard

A safety audit standard for adventure activities specifies the requirements that adventure activity operators must comply with to reduce risks when providing adventure activities.

The following safety audit standard has been developed and published by the Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (“the Ministry”) pursuant to Regulation 20 of the Health and Safety in Employment (Adventure Activities) Regulations 2011:

Safety Audit Standard for Adventure Activities – Requirements for a Safety Audit of Operators (The Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment, March 2013).

This is the inaugural standard and will be kept under review. Copies of the standard may be obtained from the Ministry’s website or by writing to the Principal Advisor – Adventure Activities, Health and Safety Group, Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment, PO Box 3705, Wellington 6140.

www.dol.govt.nz/adventure-activities

The standard sets out the requirements for a safety management system for all operators that provide the adventure activities covered by the Regulations.

It includes explicit requirements to manage the risks of drug and alcohol use.

The standard was developed in consultation with the public, the adventure and outdoor sector, and with other Government agencies.

The Regulations require commercial operators who provide adventure activities, as defined by the Regulations, to pass safety audits and become registered by the Ministry.

Passing a safety audit is required for registration.

Safety audits are performed by safety auditors recognised by the Ministry.

Safety auditors are engaged directly by operators.

A safety auditor must audit an operator for compliance with the safety audit standard that applies to the adventure activities provided by the operator.

On 25 February 2013, the Commission made the Gas Pipeline Services Input Methodologies Determination Amendment (No. 1) 2013, [2013] NZCC 3 (“the Amendment”) in accordance with section 52X of the Act.

The amendment amends the Gas Distribution Services Input Methodologies Determination 2012, [2012] NZCC 27 (“the GDB Determination”), and the Gas Transmission Services Input Methodologies Determination 2012, [2012] NZCC 28 (“the GTB Determination”).

These issues were identified by the Commission and interested parties in the Commission’s consultation on the determination of default price-quality paths for suppliers of gas pipeline services, determined 28 February 2013.

The amendment makes the following changes to the determinations:

- (a) Revises the definition of balancing gas for gas transmission services in order to include welded parties.

- (c) Allows for the pass-through of Electricity and Gas Complaints Commission levies.
- (d) Corrects an error in the treatment of taxation input methodologies for application of the term credit spread differential allowance.
- (e) Corrects other typographical errors as set out in the amendment.

The amendment is effective as of 25 February 2013.

Copies of the amendment and the determination are available for inspection free of charge at the Commission (during ordinary office hours), 44 The Terrace, Wellington, or for purchase at a reasonable price at the Commission, or on the Commission’s website
